BLANK SLATE

When either the Scripts or Notecards section is empty, it will have this simple reminder on where to tap to import a script/notecard or create a new script/notecard

SCRIPT LIBRARY

These are all the user's Scripts, listed either A to Z, Z to A or by last date edited (default). The Play button allows the user to instantly start the presentation of the script. Tapping on the name of the script goes to a detailed view of the script.

DELETING A SCRIPT

With a swipe from the Left to the Right on a Script will slide the list item to the right, and show a Delete button to delete the Script.

NOTECARD LIBRARY

Just like the Scripts, this is a list of all the Notecards, sorted A to Z, or Z to A or last date edited.

DELETING A NOTECARD

VIEW A SCRIPT

This is the full view of a script that was either imported or typed on the device. Tapping on the title will let you rename the Script, tapping on the pencil will let you edit the script, tapping the tape icon will show all recordings for that script, tapping on the Play icon starts the presentation of this Script.

NEW SCRIPT

Tapping on the “+File” icon on the upper right begins the process of creating or importing a new script. The user must choose to import from a file (Starting the Ink File Picker) or creating a new blank script.

NEW BLANK SCRIPT

When selecting a new blank script you are presented with an "Untitled Script" with no text (will contain placeholder text along the lines of "Tap to edit") Tapping on the title will allow the user to rename the script. Done will finish editing.

EDITING EXISTING SCRIPT

This is editing an existing script, this process is the same for an imported document, or a script created entirely on device.

THE MENU

Pressing the 3 Line Menu button will cause the main view to slide to the right, showing a Menu underneath.

SORT OPTIONS

Pressing on the Sort options brings up a picker to select which sorting option you want.
